Jihad in Nigeria

At least 15 people were killed and more than 40 seriously injured on Sunday, 3 June, when a Boko Haram suicide bomber drove his car into a checkpoint outside The Living Faith Church in Bauchi. The explosion, which occurred at 9:20am, sent shrapnel through believers who were fellowshiping outside, after the church's first worship service. The explosion also hit the Harvest Field Church only 25m away across the road, causing part of the church building to collapse on worshipers.

Churches Under Siege

Many of the wounded are severely burned and some believers are still unaccounted for amongst the building wreckage. Boko Haram, the Radical Islamic Jihadist terror group has claimed responsibility. Christians in Northern Nigeria are continuing to attend worship services behind barricades and check points, which have been erected to attempt to protect them from the systematic campaign of bombing Christian churches. Muslim mobs continue to raid Christian communities at night. Boko Haram has quoted Surah 7:4:

"Our punishment came to them at night, or while they were sleeping at noon."
